A detailed illustration of a muscular man with a beard, wearing a white tunic and a beaded necklace, working in a workshop. He is using a mallet and a chisel to carve a piece of wood. The workshop is filled with various tools, a large jar, and finished wooden furniture. In the background, there are Egyptian-style murals on the wall, including one of a man holding a staff and another of a seated figure. A window on the left shows a palm tree outside.

WHY ?

HASSANAIN is the only Egyptian furniture brand that transformed Damietta's exceptional craftsmanship into world-class, high-end furniture.
